The Drendful Blairs.

The Blairs have much to answer for if half that is said of them be true. They assisted Van Buren in 1848 in organizing the disruption of the old democratic party; they assisted in organizing the republican party; they got Frank into Congress and Montgomery into Lincoln's Cabinet as republicans; but the radicals got Frank out of Congress and Montgomery out of the Cabinet, and from that point we find them returning to the democratic church. Now from the Manhattan Club it is proclaimed that General Frank Blair, the democratic candidate for Vice President, was the fatal mistake of the Tammany Convention; that his Brodhead letter has knocked all the late elections wrong side up; that in roping in Wade Hampton and all the Southern rebel leaders as expounders of the democratic faith this Marplot Blair has flattened out Seymour flat as a pancake; that Blair is the Jonah who has brought the storm upon the ship, and that he must go overboard; but that, to make all sure, Seymour must walk the plank likewise, and another captain and mate must be appointed. Rank mutiny in the midst of a hurricane. Is this the way to save the drifting ship?

SQUARING THE CIRCLE-It can't be done. The schoolmarms of the Manhattan oracle have given it up, and instead of squaring they are, with Andy Johnson, "swinging round the circle" for a new ticket.

GREAT COMMOTION-In the kitchen cabinet at Washington. All the fat's in the fire and all the cooks are crying out, "Down with Seymour and Blair and up with Andy Johnson and Bobby Walker!"

MASONIC RESEARCHES IN THE HOLY LAND.

A very slim gathering assembled last evening a Cooper Institute to hear a lecture announced on the above subject by Robert Morris, LL. D. The lecturer, although, as shown in the meagre attendance, not very heartily abetted or encouraged by his Ma-sonic brethren, did his best to make himself entertaining, and he certainly, in the interesting facts he gave in connection with his theme, showed that in his tour through the Hosy Land his researches had been both careful and extended.

On the 1st of March last Dr. Morris said he started on his tour of the Holy Land. He made Beyrout his headquariers. He found here a Masonic lodge known as No. 450 Pales ine lodge. The ritual and headquarters. He found here a Masonic lodge known as No. 450 Pales ine lodge. The ritual and ceremonies were in French, and, in fact, through Syria French influences were in the ascendancy. He spote of Rev. Mr. Fisk, a Missionary from this country who had been made a mason before leaving the United States, and the greater influence he exercised as a missionary on the account. Very soon after his arrival he paid as respects to the Grand Pachs, being admitted to his presence through his credentials as a Mason. The Pacha was deeply interested in his errand and afforded him every possible assistance at his command. On parting with the Pacha the latter, under his own sign and seal, gave him a letter that precured him his ed attention elsewhere. Only the best class are Masons. The poorer classes are bigoodly prejudiced against it. Roman Catholic influence throughout all the Orient was opposed to Masonry. From Beyrout he went to Damasons. Here he found sixteen Masons, all of great eminence, beginning with the Pacha. While there he helped to organize a lodge. Among the Moslems he found great attachment to Freemasonry. Moslems and Christians unite on the platform of Freemasonry. He speke in turn of his visits to Tyre, and, ternsalem and other places traditionally connected with Freemasonry. He found Tyre, which once sent form 12,000 to help build Solomon's Temple, a miserable town. He did not find a Mason here. His ancient splender and intengence had departed. Of Jabel and Lebanon he gave about the same account. At Jaffa he discovered more relies of ancient Freemasonry. He here

Education in Spain.

The concluding lines of our cable telegram fro Madrid, under date of yesterday, which states that the "free schools in Spain have been reopened," are we been told, when and by what authority these establishments were closed; whether by act of the progress of the revolution. With respect to the state of education in Spain, we know the Office of Public Instruction at Madrid, just before the fall of Isabella's throne, published some interesting official returns relating to the braries and schools in the kingdom. According to these documents the national libraries in Spain contained 1, 166,505 volumes, thus divided:—Library of Madrid, 300,000; Central University, 300,000; Barceiona, 136,000; Salamanca, 55,000; Paima and Ma-jorca, 35,000; Mahon, 11,000. The archives at Simancas consisted of 70,278 packages of manuscripts, of various sizes, and those at Alcala de Henarcs of 35,100. There were at that period 10 universities in Spain for general instruction, 11 for the fine arts. 1 for music, 2 for manufactures, 1 for diplomacy, 5 for commerce, 17 for navigation, 27,000 iniant or free schools and 77 institutions for training teachers. The amount given by government for public instruction for the year 1893-199 was 23,000,000 reals, to which the communes throughout the king-dom added 110,000,000 reals.

After thus disposing of the arms the party re-embarked on the tug and started back up the river. In attempting to go through the chute the tug grounded and the party then took to the woods. It is said they selzed the tug below Fort Pickering soon after the Hesper had left this port. The affair causes great excitement here.

The Commercial Convention at Norfolk Torchlight Procession-City Illuminated.

The torchlight procession to-night, as compliment to the Commercial Convention, was the grandest affair was brilliantly illuminated. Tar barrels were burning upon all the principal streets, and the procession extended over one mile. A slight difficulty, not at all serious, having occurred yesterday between some of the fire companies and the militia, the mayor this evening issued orders that they should not turn out, and this somewhat interfered with the arrangements for the procession. Boys, however, bore the torches, making an excellent display. This action of the mayor is regarded by some in a political light, while others allege it was necessary for the preservation of the peace. However this may be the affair passed off quietly, and beyond the arrest of a few drunken negroes nothing has occurred to mar the good order of the city, though the streets were crowded with all agos, sexes, colors and classes of persons.

The proceedings of the Commercial Convention this afternoon were confined to speaches on rathroad extension West and to raising subscriptions in aid of the direct trade project.

GERMAN DRAMA-THE STADT THEATRE. - While French comic opera, gay and sparkling, is attracting overflowing audiences to two rival establishments on the west side of the city, and the more sedate English drama, legitimate and illegitimate, is dispensed at the Broadway theatres, the east side of the city of the c of the city is enjoying its German drams at the Stadt theatre, in Bowery. The present attraction is Mr. Hermann Hendrichs, an actor of great and well deserved reputation. He took his benefit last night in Frederick Schiller's great play of "William Tell," and the capacions theatre was filled with a fashionable and thoroughly gratified andience. The play is probably not one which literally translated and performed would be very popular in the English tongae, it is too wordy—has too many lengthy speeches. But in the original German and for the theatrical taste of Germans it is not, perhaps, susceptible so that strictiesm. Mr. Hendrichs was much applauded, as were the performers of the other principal characters. The play was well and carefully put upon the stage, the general acting was good and the orchestra superb.

The ago he designed the town in Mechanics' Hall. The popularity of this troupe increases apparently with years; and last evening, as upon every other evening during the week, the house was filled with a large and fashionable audience, who gave vent to the piessure they derived from the performance in frequent and hearty rounds of appliance and in screams of unbridled laughter, which was quite contagious and amounted at times almost to bolsterous hibarity. With the exception of the afterpiece, "Lucrezia Borgia, the Grand Doctress," which is now the great sensation at this hall, the programme has undergone a radical change, and now presents to the public many new and pleasing features. The "Tin-pan-oni-an" concert, as conducted by Signer Dano Bryanti, is immense in its style, and needs but to be seen to be admired. The case and grace with which Signor Bryanti wields his baton as conductor of the orchestra would do credit to a leader at the grand opers, and could be profitably copied after. From first to last the evening's enterrainment was overflowing with fun, but to particularize where all was excellence would be out of place and not to the purpose. Suffice is, then, to say that the great charm of Bryants' Minstrels less in their close adherence to the time-honored delineations of eccentric negro life such as is associated in the minds of the American people with Southern plantations.

San Francisco Minstreis.—A well filled house rewarded the labors of the three busy E.'s of this popularity of this troupe increases apparently with popular minstrel troupe. Birch, Backus and Berard were excruciatingly funny in their negro delineations, and the laughter they provoked was so contagious that Birch himself was seriously affected by it. Those who know William, however, believe by it. Those who know William, however, believe it is a way he has, as his good-natured face is never without the sunshine of a smile. The sweet voice of Wambold was missed during the evening—that favorite minstrel being incapacitated by a severe cold. What a pity singers will have colds like other mortals! Bobby Newcomb treated the audience to his feast of fun and the three B.'s followed, assisted by William Henry Rice in a Ristorian Medean burlesque, which for ridiculous nonsense and laughter-provoking merriment cannot be equalled on the stage. "Barber Brown, the Pacific Sloper," still occupies 68 and excites the suspicion of the Shakspearian bootblack. If a full house and a merry greeting were rewards sufficient for last night's entertainment the minstrels of this cosey little hall reaped a harvest pleasing as well as profitable.

KELLY AND LEON'S MINSTRELS .- To-night close the career of the travestic of Leon's "Barber Blu," one in which that notable burlesque actor and singer has added to a reputation that stands second to no other as an inimitable copyist of the manners and impersonations of others, in his Bullyette (Boulette). Barber Blu" gives place to "The Grand Dutch S," which will, commencing on Monday, be performed for a limited number of nights. This buriesque on a for a limited number of nights. This buriesque on a buriesque was run last season for upwards of two hundred nights, and there is little doubt, with the new scenery, new dresses and new music promised, if other engagements permitted, it would attract full houses for the whole of the present season. It, however, like other successes at this piace (and "Bar-ber Blu" may be mentioned as among the most attractive, must give place to a very claborate paraphrase of the grand opera of "Zampa," which is to be put on the stage in a style equal in costume, scenery, music, situations, &c., to the original. On this promised plece $16,000 have already been paid out and there is room for the expenditure of a few more thousands before it is pronounced perfect and ready for the public. The houses during the week have been of the best, and the performances, including many novelities, have been received with roars of laughter. The take off on the "Grand Gift Enterprises," and the scrap entitled, "Wanted, a Tragedian," have been received with unusual favor. The quadruple sword combat between two of the characters in the last named piece is admirable and was applauded to the echo.

APOLLO HALL -- A concert in aid of the Ornbeon Free Vocal and Choir Boy fund took place last evening, under the direction of Mr. Jerome Hopkins. There was a numerous audience, who during the evening gave frequent tokens of their approbation at the manner in which the simple yet pleasing items of the programme were performed. Signor Paolicchi opened with the favorite barttone song from Martha, "Chi mi dira," which harendered witz much effect. Mme. De Lussan sang "Love's Request," and displayed considerable power and execution in her subsequent rendition of "The Moxisan Nightingale." A few ancient Scotch songs, given with much spirit and sympathy by Mr. Griswold, were well received, nor did Mr. Prisson fail to leave a favorable impression of his ability as a violinist by his excellent performance of "The Last Rose of Summer," which Flotow adreity smuggled into his opera. A plano solo, entitled "The Mermail's Rhapsody," by Mr. Hopkins, brought the concert to a successful close. at the manner in which the simple yet pleasi

CARD FROM MRS. EX-PRESIDENT TYLER.

The "Gardiner-Tyler will case" having terminated its career in the courts—a verdict being finally recorded October 5 in its favor, relieving Mrs. Tyler from the imputation of "fraud, artifice and undue induence"—and as the suit, running through four years, has been from time to time a subject of notice in the journals of the day, Mrs. Tyler wishes to publicly express her heartfelt thanks to her generous and distinguished counsel, William M. Evarts and Judge Edwards Pierrepout, for their untiring devotion of time and patience in the prosecution of her defence. The blessings which attend the defenders of the fatherless and widow will be theirs. Her thanks are also due to other lawyers and the friends associated with her cause for their kindaoss and con-

Mr. H. T. HZLMBOLD:—

DEAR SIR.—In regard to the question asks. 1 me as to my opinion about HUCHU, I would say that I h., we used and sold the article in various forms for the past thir. V years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it. have not used, or known to be used, in the various diseases wh. The such medicata agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extend elyemployed in the v. found diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the rountait, n it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of the produced cleaves, the simple decoction, trugure, i. tid extracts, and I am not cognizant of any preparation of the plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years' experience ough, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and, without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.
